New boss for town's biggest employer

IT'S ALL change at Axminster Tools and Machinery, with Alan Styles having been recently appointed to the top job.

The eldest son of Bernie and Marjorie Styles, Alan has now taken over from his uncle Ian Styles as managing director and will head up the company which has over 290 employees and eight retail stores.

Alan is well qualified to take on this role having attained a degree in Business and Finance and an MBA, and has been with the company since leaving university almost 20 years ago.

During this period he has worked in virtually every area including customer service, retail and servicing, gaining a detailed understanding of the business.

He has held the positions of customer services manager, office manager, purchasing director and most recently sales director, and has seen the company grow rapidly since he joined.

Alan says: "Gaining the relevant qualifications, experience and more im-

THE Mayor of Axminster, Councillor Paul Hayward, pictured, has been found to not be in breach of town council code of conduct rules by sending out a tweet, which was said to contain a link to pornography.

EDDC Cabinet backs West Hill proposal

WEST Hill's own parish council and independence from Ottery St Mary is one step closer after East Devon District Council's Cabinet resolved to allow the process to move forward.

The decision was made easier after the West Hill Parish Council Campaign Group came out in support of the newly-proposed boundary, where many thought they would object.

The decision will now go to the full council meeting, where it is expected to receive cross party support, and then to the Boundary Commission for final approval.

West Hill Parish Council could come into formal legal effect on April 1st 2017 with the first elections being held a month later.

From the editor's chair New man Alan at the top of ATM

THERE'S a new man at the top of Axminster's most successful and most ambitious company.

We report this week that Alan Styles has taken over from his uncle Ian, one of Axminster's most charismatic characters, as managing director of Axminster Tools and Machinery, formerly known as Axminster Power Tools.

The family-run ATM has been one of Axminster's success stories of recent times and are now the town's biggest employer with more than 290 workers on their books, eclipsing the recently troubled Axminster Carpets, and eight retail stores.

Ian Styles' boots will take some filling. He has fronted the company's massive expansion turning it into a multi-million pound business and making it one of the market leaders in their specific field, winning huge respect along the way.

But Alan is already a highly respected businessman, having gained experience of every section of the ATM operation, having most recently held the sales director role.

Ian will still be very much involved in the business at board level.

Axminster is rightly proud of ATM and under Alan's guidance, backed by the Styles family and a supportive board, the future for the town's biggest employer is most certainly assured.

♦ "A WASTE of public money". That's how Axminster's recently appointed mayor, Paul Hayward, described the hearing in which he was accused of sending an inappropriate tweet. He says his reputation is in tact.

There are many who will have some sympathy for that view and are surprised the matter had gone as far as the East Devon District Council's Standards Sub-committee.

This column does not intend to go into the interpretation of a tweet that mentioned Axminster Town Council, the authority he now leads.

There was a hashtag link that many thought inappropriate. Councillor Hayward maintains he did not send the tweet in his official capacity as a member of the council.

He had already apologised to a council official last year and one might have thought that was the end of it.

Using social media can be fraught with pitfalls but surely the apology was sufficient?

Council to consider draft Villages Plan

EAST Devon District Council will consider its draft Villages Plan, which may affect future development in Colyton, this week ahead of a public consultation.

The council's Strategic Planning Committee will look at the draft plan on Thursday and is expected to approve an eight-week consultation period.

The Villages Plan will translate East Devon's Local Plan policy to village level to ensure that it provides for development at 14 larger villages and the town of Colyton. The plan includes proposed Built-Up Area Boundaries, showing where development may be acceptable in the future.

A Town Council statement said: "Seaton representatives questioned why Bovis Homes would be proposing to build more houses if the scheme was not profitable."

Town council wins special award

ITS "outstanding support for the local community" has earned Axminster Town Council a special award.

The accolade came as part of East Devon District Council's Queen's 90th Birthday Awards Scheme.

Axminster Town Council was praised for its support of local organisations The Project, Axminster Care Service and Axminster Job Club.

The citation said: "It was clear that the town council had listened and responded to local need and had worked in partnership with local people, giving on-going support.

"The town council clearly understands the value of listening to local people and how individuals, with the help of a network of volunteers, can drive forward effective schemes to promote health and well-being.

"Axminster Town Council is a worthy winner of this Special Award."

The town council won £100, and has informally agreed to split the money between the three organisations involved.

Councillor has not breached conduct rules

News after the hearing that he was disappointed the issue had ever got as far as the standards Sub-Committee.

Cllr Hayward said: "It's disappointing it came to this today, as this has been a waste of public money – which could have better been spent on the district or Axminster town. But I'm happy that my reputation has been restored and I will of course be more careful what I tweet in the future."

member of the council now led by Councillor Hayward.

Councillor Hall was co-opted this year, having resigned from the town council after just 14 months in 2013 because of its, in his view, "inadequate efforts" to investigate implications over the Cloakham Lawn planning controversy.

Mr Darsley came to the conclusion that the tweet itself did not give the impression that Councillor Hayward was tweeting in an official capacity – but his user name (@cllrhayward) did.

hashtag, Mr Darsley wrote: "It is certainly true that a user is not obliged or forced to click on the link. However, the link has been placed there by Councillor Hayward for the purpose of the user receiving an illustration of his comment that 'it's hot in here'.

"Having considered what a reasonable person would think about a councillor whose tweet invited readers to navigate to the 'Not Suitable For Work' content, I have found that Councillor Hayward brought his office into disrepute."

Chairman of the Standards Hearings Sub-Committee Stuart Hughes said the committee had debated and found that Cllr Hayward was not tweeting as a councillor, they were his personal views and he had not brought the council into disrepute by sending the tweet.

Councillor Hayward, though, said the title element does not stand for 'councillor' but for 'counsellor' as he is a practicing minister of the Universal Life Church.

He suggested that an apology made by Councillor Hayward at a meeting of the town council would constitute a sufficient resolution, saying: "I agree that this, together with Councillor Hayward being requested to reflect on his use of social media in a council context, would provide an appropriate solution."

Town council code of conduct matters come under the auspices of EDDC, and investigator Tim Darsley had produced an 18-page report for the hearing.

Mr Darsley, however, disagreed and said in his report: "Such an interpretation would, in general, be unlikely.

Cllr Hayward didn't get off scot-free though – he will have to undertake social media training and training to better understand the councillor code of conduct.

The key questions were whether Councillor Hayward had given the impression he was acting as a councillor when tweeting, and whether or not the tweet and its link were pornographic.

"The subject of the tweet is attendance at a meeting of Axminster Town Council and contains a link to the town council's account."

On the matter of the link/

The controversy began in July last year when Councillor Hayward (who was not the town mayor at the time) tweeted that he was getting ready for a council meeting.

He then made reference to a music video by an artist called Nelly, and also added the #NSFW hashtag, which leads to a regularly updated feed of tweets deemed 'Not Suitable For Work', which can sometimes feature nudity and sex.

Councillor Hayward, however, said that he was not tweeting in an official capacity and that a hashtag, not a link, was there as a big sign to warn people and avoid controversy – adding that he was the target of a politically-motivated campaign.

But he had removed the tweet after being told that a town council employee had been upset because it was a reminder of a previous town council Twitter controversy.

He is also a court assistant for The Furniture Makers' Company, a charity which actively supports welfare, training and education for the Furniture Industry which in turn contributes £40bn to the UK's economy.

County honours retiring heads

A CELEBRATION of nearly 200 years of service to children in Devon by eight departing headteachers has been held.

The leader of Devon County Council, John Hart, and the Cabinet Member for Schools, James McInnes, Chief Executive Phil Norrey and Head of Education and Learning, Sue Clarke, hosted the celebration for heads who left their schools during the current academic year after a lifetime of service.

Most were retiring but others were going on to work in other areas.

In East Devon, Alan Simpson spent 26 years teaching children in the county and retired as executive head of the Axe Beacon Federation consisting of Seaton, Shute, Colyton and Kilminster primary schools.

Sue Nield from West Hill Primary gave 28 years' service in Devon while Faith Jarrett from King's School, Ottery St Mary, has 13 years' service in Devon.

They were all among the heads invited to a special garden party and buffet supper in Exeter.

Mr Hart told them: "Devon has a lot to be proud of – particularly in its education service.

"My sincere thanks go to you all on behalf of Devon County Council and the children of Devon for all the work you have done and the results you have achieved despite the low national funding of our schools."

He said he wished those who were retiring a long and happy retirement and every success to those who were moving on to new ventures.

Dr Norrey said he wanted to thank the heads on behalf of the thousands of children who had passed through their care over the years.

"It is heads and teachers in schools who make a difference and you can look back with pride on a job well done," he said.

Plans approved for Lidl distribution centre

EAST Devon District Council have approved planning permission for Lidl, the UK's fastest growing supermarket, to build a new regional distribution centre on the outskirts of Exeter, a move which will see the supermarket create around 500 jobs for the area.

East Devon's Development Management Committee unanimously approved the Lidl Logistics Centre application on Tuesday, July 5th, subject to addressing some conditions around construction and operational noise concerns.

Councillor Paul Diviani, Leader of East Devon District Council, warmly welcomed the news saying: "Planning approval for Lidl's new regional distribution centre is an enormous boost for growth and confidence for East Devon. It's a real red letter day for job creation for the area and to top it all Lidl are looking to be on site this summer.

"Lidl coming here underlines the incredible credentials of the area for strategic employment growth, plus with the centre connecting up to low carbon energy centre which also serves neighbouring Skypark and Cranbrook, in sustainability terms too."

Adrienne Howells, Lidl UK Head of Warehouse Expansion added: "We are delighted to have received planning permission for our new regional distribution centre in East Devon. This will ultimately help to alleviate pressure on our other warehouses currently servicing the region. We are of course thrilled that this will lead to considerable investment and job creation in the area, and we're very much looking forward to getting started on construction."

Having already carried out extensive site preparation works, Sainsbury's, the previous owner, put its plans for a depot on hold in 2013. It was announced earlier this year that Lidl had acquired the site, known as the Exeter Gateway, which already has planning permission for a distribution warehouse of 50,000 m².

Hugo Swire loses FCO position in new prime minister's reshuffle

EAST Devon MP Hugo Swire has lost his role in Government, following the announcement of new Prime Minister Theresa May's new cabinet.

Mr Swire has lost his job at the FCO as Minister for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs, a position he had held since 2012.

He joins West Dorset MP Oliver Letwin, Michael Gove, Nicky Morgan and John Whittingdale in returning to the backbenches, while Boris Johnson takes on the role of Foreign Secretary.

Mr Swire tweeted: "I am retiring to the backbenches to join my friends. It's been an honour and a privilege to have served as a minister in the government since 2010."

He has since received many messages of support

Mr Swire also was full of praise for David Cameron, who officially handed over the reins to Mrs May last week.

Mr Swire said: "I am immensely proud to have worked under a great, modern Prime Minister. Under David's leadership, the Government stabilised the economy, reduced the budget deficit, and helped more people into work than ever before.

"But David's true legacy was not only about the economy, but about social justice. From the introduction of same-sex marriage to taking people on low wages out of income tax altogether, David Cameron led a One Nation Government, and it is in that spirit that Theresa May plans to lead as well. The full title of my party is the Conservative and Unionist Party. And that word 'Unionist' is very important to us.

"It means we believe in the Union – the precious, precious bond between England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

"But it means something else, as Theresa said in her speech, it means we believe in a union, not just between the nations of the United Kingdom, but between all of our citizens.

"Theresa May's vision is to make Britain a country that works for everyone and together we all will work together to help her achieve that vision."

Tinkerbell takes the top spot at popular dog show

ANITA Skinner's chihuahua tinkerbell claimed the overall gold at Axminster Cricket Club's annual summer fete novelty dog show.

Held on Sunday, July 3rd, the fete was opened by the Mayor of Axminster, Councillor Paul Hayward.

The event was blessed with extremely kind weather and attracted a large number of visitors to Cloakham Lawn Sports Centre.

Those who attended were entertained by a variety of activities.

The ever popular Karizma Majorettes gave a marvellous display, there was a bouncy castle, a rodeo bull, a tombola, a cake stall and a number of other side shows – including one by national charity Lady Taverners.

A club spokesperson said: "The highlight of the afternoon was the novelty dog show, with up to 23 extremely well-behaved dogs in each of the ten classes.

"There were rosettes in each class and the best dog in show was Tinkerbell, with owner, Anita Skinner.

"Axminster Cricket Club would like to thank the judges for their time and patience, as there were 'bones of contention' over some of the decisions.

"Some people even thought that they were 'barking up the wrong tree'.

"The cricket club would also like to thank the Hoare family from dog-grooming boutique Barking Spa in Seaton for co-ordinating the dog show."

Medical practice extension completed

■ HOUSEWARMING: Dr Phil Taylor and practice manager Linda Coombs inspecting a new consulting room

AXMINSTER Medical Practice can soon welcome patients to its much-awaited extension.

Having been a combined surgery and building site since December last year, it will be business as usual from August 1st, with all patients being seen in the extended main building.

A number of doctors were relocated to temporary accommodation in the Restharrow car park to accommodate building work.

An added floor at the back of the building has been built providing seven new consulting rooms to meet increasing demand.

The builders handed over possession of the £450,000 extension to the surgery on July 7th.

Equipment is about to be fitted and "exiled" doctors will be moved back to the main building during the last weekend of July, so will see patients there from Monday, August 1st

Practice manager Linda Coombs praised colleagues and patients for having been so understanding since building work commenced, and added: "They have been really good, a big thank you to them and contractors N J Whittaker Ltd of Honiton – who were amazing."

She also explained that the extension provides space desperately needed, and spare capacity in terms of more staff further down the line

Dr Phil Taylor also thanked everyone involved, saying: "I am delighted. It couldn't have been done in a less disruptive way."

Plans for a formal opening ceremony are being made.

Metal rod stuck in man's leg

A MAN was taken to hospital after an accident in which he got a metal rod stuck in his leg.

The ambulance service was called to an address in Axminster town centre just before 9.30am on Friday, July 8th.

An ambulance spokesperson said that the man, in his 30s, was taken to RD&E Hospital in Exeter.

Fun runner donates £245 to League of Friends

■ GENEROUS: Karen handing the cheque to Mary Ashby (team leader) and Haze Barber

SEATON & District Hospital League of Friends gratefully received a cheque from Karen Rogers following her participation in the Great Midlands Fun Run.

Karen raised £245.25 for the Seaton Friends Hospiscare @ Home service.

Karen, who delivers medicines to the housebound and the poorly for Lloyds Pharmacy in Seaton sees on a daily basis the care and support the home nursing team gives to patients and their families at a time when it is needed most.

She said: "My brother Gary has taken part in the Great Midlands Fun Run for many years, raising money for Cancer Research UK, but when he asked me to run with him, I of course said yes - as long as I could raise money for the nurses in my community.

"We lost our mum to cancer when Gary was just 10. Sadly, there was no nursing at home team for her, so we know just how special this service is.

"It is so important to support them, as we never know when we might need them.

"I would like to thank everyone who so generously sponsored me and I am hoping to do the run again next year."

League manager, Lycia Moore said: "I would like to thank Karen for thinking of our wonderful Seaton Friends Hospiscare @ Home and choosing us as her charity to run for.

"The league relies on our fundraising and kind donations to be able to fund items for our community hospital and to fund our Seaton Friends Hospiscare @ Home service, which is for people who are in their final months or weeks of life and would like to be cared for at home."

Anyone wanting to know more information about the service, or how they could help raise much needed funds, can contact Lycia Moore on 01297 20143.

Organisers delighted with reaction to Battle of Somme commemorations

RICHARD Scott said he was delighted with the public reaction to the exhibition and film to mark the 100 th anniversary of the Battle of the Somme and the Battle of Jutland.

Scott, who is chairman of the Beer 2014 Group, arranged for a special showing of the memorable silent film "The Battle of the Somme" in Beer Congregational Church.

Honiton organist Trevor Bolshaw accompanied the film, which was shot during the British Army's preparations for the battle, in which more than 19,000 British soldiers were killed on the first day, by playing music on the Wurlitzer cinema organ, which is the oldest in the country.

"We had 65 people turn up for the film coming from as far away as Newton Abbott and Bovey Tracey," said Richard.

"The music was excellent and really went well with the film. I was also pleased with the exhibition (pictured above) and the one thing that struck us was that the people who did come along spent a long time looking around and that was very gratifying."

Richard and his colleagues have already turned their attention to their next project which will be to mark the end of the Battle of the Somme - which lasted 141 days - with a possible lights out ceremony and reading of poetry at sunset on November 18th.

Seaton on show as Bloom judges visit

EIGHT Seaton venues were closely scrutinised by meticulous South West in Bloom judges, the result of which will be announced later this year.

Seaton competes in the Small Town category, and it is hoped that judges Tony Moore and Richard Budge liked what they saw on Wednesday, July 13th.

They were escorted from the town council headquarters at Marshlands to their first port of call, Seaton Jurassic, by the Mayor Marcus Hartnell, Deputy Mayor Jack Rowland and Seaton in Bloom volunteer Sue Pitt.

The delegation was welcomed by town crier David Craner and judging commenced after a cream tea.

Venues inspected were the gardens and adventure park at Seaton Jurassic, Seaton Primary School, Seaton Wetlands, Seaton Allotments, Windsor Gardens, Marine Place/Seaford Gardens and the Esplanade.

South West in Bloom is one of the 18 regional and national competitions that make up Britain in Bloom.

A spokesperson said: "It is the biggest horticultural campaign in Europe.

"The aim of the communities that take part each year is to improve and regenerate the local environment, through the imaginative planting of trees, shrubs, flowers and landscaping, conservation and recycling projects, and to sweep away the eyesores that blight our streets, such as litter, graffiti and vandalism."

A mix of emotions at 'Entertaining Angels'

COLYTON Theatre Group took on the challenging "Entertaining Angels" for their 2016 production last week.

The play, originally written by Richard Everett and directed in Colyton by Jeff Hutchinson, took the audience through a mix of emotions as it posed questions on the serious topics of grief, faith and forgiveness, while keeping things light-hearted with a few jokes added to the mix.

Tish Wells (pictured left) impressed in the lead role of "difficult" vicar's wife Grace in the days following the death of husband Bardolph.

She remained on stage almost entirely throughout the production, delivering the clever script word for word, including many hilarious, quick-witted jibes.

Grace struggles to move forward and come to terms with the loss of husband Bardolph, played by David Clarke, and things are not helped with the arrival of new vicar Sarah (Debbie Trott) - struggling with a personal dilemma of her own - and devastating revelations from Grace's sister, missionary Ruth (Sue Whitwell), which makes Grace question her whole marriage.

THEATRE REVIEW By Francesca Evans

While grieving the loss of her father and going through a separation herself, Grace's daughter Jo (Steph Letten) is forced to take the lead in resolving the problems of the other women around her.

The successful "Entertaining Angels" proved that Colyton Theatre Group - which recently won the Western Division Quarter Finals of the All England Theatre Festival with their production of "Ladybirds" - is more than capable of tackling the more serious side of theatre, as well as comedy.

Mention must be given to set designer Roger Bagg and team for the beautiful garden set which practically spilled out onto the floor of Colyton Town Hall.

An array of arrangements for flower club members

THE July meeting of Colyford and District Flower Club was held at Colyford Hall with Tracy Johnson from Torquay. Her demonstration was called "A Touch of Nature".

Tracy's first demo used a large wooden painted candlestick, adding pieces of willow (also painted) hanging from the top. To this, ruscus and leather ferns trailed down the sides adding white stocks, avalanche rose, white lillies and gypsophila. To complete this she added some curled, green ribbon and two large butterflies.

Tracy then made a structure from bits of driftwood and other bits glued together with five test tubes wired on. To these she added small ferns, heuchera leaves and a beautiful orchid in each tube finishing off with a piece of ivy trailing through it.

Next was a very unusual container that Tracy had made with two pieces of painted insulation boards cut into large circles stuck together and small conifer sticks glued on to make the edging. On the front and back she had stuck small mosaic tiles. She then created a Hogarth curve on the top with purple calla lilies, purple tulips and bush ivy, adding two lotus heads.

She also compelled displays with a tropical theme and a summer meadow theme.

Tracy's final arrangement was done on a metal table with a place on top of a sunken dish. This was filled with roses, peonies, pink hydrangea heads, pink germini's, pink larkspur, and purple statice.

Jean Allsop gave the vote of thanks.

The competition was judged by Tracy and the winner in the novice class was Joy Taylor, intermediate was Carol Hubbard, advanced was Sheila Clare.

The afternoon finished with tea and cake and members left with lots of inspiration. If anyone would like to join members, they can go along as a visitor.

The next meeting will be September 6th at 2.15pm at Colyford Memorial Hall. The speaker will be Joan Trewin from Bude with her talk "Autumn Splendour". The competition will be "Melloe Fruitfulness". This is not for prizes but the practice skills.

Colyford WI celebrates 41 years

COLYFORD WI recently celebrated its 41st birthday. Members were joined by their founding member and visitors from neighbouring WIs and their meeting had a "Buckingham Palace Garden Party" theme.

A short sketch was performed by members of the committee and there was a royal themed quiz. Tea and birthday cake was enjoyed by all.

Successful exhibition at Axe Vale Show

AXMINSTER Art Society enjoyed an excellent weekend when they held their annual exhibition in the Axe Vale Festival.

Attracting well over 2,000 visitors, the bright colourful array of paintings was much admired and the hunt for a favourite painting presented every visitor with a real challenge - in fact, many went round the exhibition twice before making up their mind.

Eventually, it was Carolyn Barker's "Poppies and Summer Snow", (pictured), that won the most votes.

The raffle prize - the beautiful painting of a lily by Karl Taylor - was won by Fran Vincent and presented to her by Chairman, Rob Chappel at the end of the show.

The committee thanked everyone who worked so hard to make the exhibition such a success and was delighted with the very high standard of work on display.

President Lynda White was also very impressed. Afterwards she sent a message to members saying: "Visitors to the show will surely have had the enjoyment of their day enhanced by the exhibition and by your smiling committee members (and demonstrator!) who must be deservedly proud of the artwork, and a job well done."

Who called election? It's healthy to question our councillors

■ I WISH to draw your attention to the use of Seaton Town Council residents' Council Tax, in fact £6,370 of it!

£6,370 is the cost incurred for the February by-election (17 per cent turn out) for one place on the town council, the candidates being myself and Jack Rowland. I must stress that neither of us requested an election.

Usually replacement councillors during the mid term are co-opted (meaning the remaining council members choose a replacement after judging their suitability at interview). So how and why was the election called?

How? Ten members of the Seaton town public, some being past and present councillors, but none of the signatories stood, filled in the required form and submitted it to the Electoral Department EDDC. The election was then generated.

Why? As stated Jack Rowland and I had no hand in the requesting an election and we would probably have gone through the co-opted route.

The request for an election is totally legal, but Seaton Town Council have now past a motion not to post out polling cards, costing in excess of £3,000, for mid term local elections.

On a lighter note, I attended the last council meeting at Marsh Lands and witnessed the meeting being carried out in a professional and business like manner.

Eric Bowman,
Seaton

■ IN this paper's edition of June 14th, the editor asked Pulman's View readers if Andrew Moulding's latest appointment as chairman of Devon County Council could make him too busy to represent Axminster's interests, i.e. now that he would be "serving three masters".

There had apparently been criticisms in this regard, but the editor didn't say who the critics were. I did, however, have my own doubts, and I am certainly not alone in this, so I responded to the question that the editor had asked, in a letter published on June 28th.

Three friends of Mr Moulding have written letters of objection to my expressed doubts, and one of them, from recently-resigned conservative town councillor Joy Raymond, accused me of "impugning Mr Moulding's integrity". She clearly didn't take enough time to read what I had written.

Both of the other letters object to my reference to Bovis and their sudden unannounced closure of a Public Right of Way. Neither seem to understand that it doesn't take a formal poll to find out what people are thinking and saying about this, and indeed other matters. Townspeople regularly talk to one another!

Countless Axminster residents had relied upon the footpath as a safe pedestrian route between the Millwey area and the town centre. Suddenly, and without warning, the Chard Road footpath entrance was found closed by Bovis. And no-one, from any of the three levels of Devon councils which serve our town, bothered to give us a warning or, after the closure, an explanation.

This newspaper would have provided the obvious vehicle for such communication. Instead, it was left to people complaining for the issue to get on the town council's agenda. And the investigation into Bovis' actions continues.

Is it any wonder that outraged and inconvenienced people looked to their most senior councillor, with his long involvement with Cloakham Lawn Sports Centre, to put them in the picture. To date, i.e. for over seven months, a hastily-constructed temporary path through the Bovis building site, has provided vehicle access to Cloakham, but it is steep and winding and therefore hazardous and unsuitable to many pedestrians who would otherwise use it to access town or a countryside walk.

My response to Mr Butler is to suggest he pauses and remembers that we are a democracy, and it is therefore right and healthy for us to question and criticise our elected public servants.

Ms K.Hackman,
Axminster

EU is worrying in other ways, not just Brexit

■ 'THIS is not war, but it's worrying'...quote from the editor's chair about Brexit.

Well, so is the Italian financial banking crisis which threatens to destabilise the EU or the spiralling downhill of the giant German Deutsche Bank.

What about the continuing Greek debt crisis? Or massive nationwide civil unrest & strikes in France because of changes to workers rights? Or how the German people are struggling to cope with 1,000,000 migrants in a short space of time? What about the dangers about the Transatlantic Trade & investment partnership between the EU & America?

Why do we not hear much about these stories in the mainstream media? It is because it would burst the bubble of the myth that we are abandoning an EU Garden of Eden where everything in the garden is rosy. If people want to discuss the implications of Brexit then you have to look at what else is going on in other EU countries. There are huge problems all around these countries that have massive implications not just for the EU but for the world. Yes things are worrying, but not just from Brexit!

Richard Benford,
Colyton

Silly name calling

■ RE: The letter from Mr Derek Sturch.

What a lot of silly name calling. How old are you? I agree we have our problems, but that doesn't mean to say you kick a man, or our country, down further. It is a great and wonderful country and instead of all the ridicule, try boosting everything up to make it better.

As for Nicola Sturgeon, for heaven's sake don't wish her on us. My family are half Scots and still live in Scotland. As for you saying she is a credible leader, I think not. She is well named Sturgeon, she rants and raves like a fishwife. So much so, when she is on the TV my family either switch off or leave the room.

Jean Bright,
Honiton

Colyton bank closure is a shock

■ THE news came as a shock (at least to me) last week that Lloyds Bank is to close its branch in Colyton. What happened to the agreement that the last bank in a town would not withdraw its facility?

It makes me wonder, if no single bank can now afford the cost of running a dedicated branch, why not operate the premises on a time-share arrangement with other financial institutions? The space could be operated on separate and specified days as a sub-branch of different banks, offering a wider range of banking facilities throughout the week at a reduced cost to each participant. To my knowledge, such an arrangement used to work well in large employers where an office housed a different bank or building society every weekday for the convenience of employees.

A lot depends on who owns the freehold of the building; if in the case of Colyton, Lloyds does, then the people of the town who currently use the branch would welcome confirmation from them whether this arrangement has been, or could be, explored to continue to provide this vital service to the town.

Marjorie Baker House, Colyton Celebrates Abbeyfield's 60th Anniversary

2016 is an exciting year for Abbeyfield as we celebrate our 60th anniversary. The first Abbeyfield house was established in 1956 by Richard Carr-Gomm. He recognised that a lot of older people were living alone and feeling isolated in their own communities and wanted to provide them with a safe and secure home where they could find friendship and support. Soon after purchasing a house in Bermondsey and inviting two local residents to move in, he had purchased five more properties and formally set up The Abbeyfield Society. Before long, volunteers around the county had formed their own societies and the dream of a nationwide charity providing high quality housing, support and companionship in later life had become a reality. From those humble beginnings we have developed wonderful facilities that include over 500 houses and homes with committed staff and 4,000+ volunteers in the UK. Worldwide there are now around 9,000 residents living in 850 houses and homes and this number is set to increase over the coming years. Today we're living in a very different world but the need remains for the same level of commitment to older people and that commitment is at the heart of everything we do. Over time, we have gained friends and supporters from all walks of life, many of whom have discovered Abbeyfield because somebody they know has lived with us.

Here at Marjorie Baker House in Colyton we are having an Open afternoon so why not pop in for cream teas in the garden and see what Abbeyfield is all about.

YOUNG mother Kelly Apps, well-known in West Dorset and East Devon as a talented stage performer, is embarking on the biggest challenge of her life by opening a new estate agency, Axe Valley Property, based in Chard Street, Axminster.

Born and educated in Lyme Regis, Kelly has worked for 18 years in the property industry and property law departments.

Her newly-launched agency will handle lettings, residential and commercial transactions.

A member of the talented Street family, Kelly, a mother of two, is well-known as one of the most popular stage performers in the locality, having received rave reviews in recent years for her musical theatre roles in Lyme Regis and Axminster, especially in the role of Evita.

seconds

● THE property market is very volatile at the moment, with a great amount of uncertainty after the EU referendum. Is there any evidence of this locally and how do you think it will pan out in the future?

There is often a lull in the property market where we see political changes. This change is of mammoth proportions but I am encouraged by the level of enquiries and business following the referendum, it shows a determination by people not to bow down to the scaremongering.

● WHAT do you think will give you the edge when potential sellers are looking for an estate agent to handle their property?

Bags of experience, realistic fees and an ultra-personable service. The whole package. I really do care.

● WHY did you choose Axminster to base your business.

It's an intriguing market; strong yet the prices are still reasonable. I have never understood this as it is such a conveniently located and quaint little market town with ever expanding industry. I feel Axminster and the market there can only grow.

I also have strong connections with the town having been involved in theatre there for nearly 20 years. It's close to my heart.

● YOU are a young mother and you have to spend a great deal of time in intense rehearsals for the leading roles for you play on the local stage. How do you balance these with running a business again?

I think temporarily the limelight will need to take a back seat. My priority is the business and, of course, my children, but I work every hour to achieve great results in seemingly short periods of time. I am confident.

● YOU come from a talented stage family with your cousin Luke having appeared on the West End stage. How old were you when your first appeared in a show?

I was about five – I had a walk on part in a Lyme Panto.

● YOUR portrayal of Evita at Lyme Regis two years ago was considered to be one of the most professional seen on the local stage. If you could choose another favourite role to play, what would it be?

I am incapable of having a favourite in anything so I always have a top five: Evita (done), Magnolia (Showboat – which I have also done), Nancy (Oliver), The Narrator (Joseph AHATCD) and Shelby (Steele Magnolias – the play).

● IF you had to name the two great inspirations in your life, who would they be?

It's a cliché but my children for sure. Oli has complex disabilities and has faced some pretty tough stuff. Madi is a feisty little character, beautiful, bright and deals with her brother's disabilities better than most adults would – better than I do, in fact.

● IF you could invite three characters from history to share your dinner table, who would they be?

Eva Peron (respect), Karen Carpenter (such talent – so tragic) and JFK (huge fascination). I wish I could chose my top five – aagggghhh!

● IF you had to pass on one piece of advice to your children, what would it be?

Be yourself confidently and passionately and never allow yourself to be anything else, no matter what the pressures.

Pupils ditch the classroom in favour of great outdoors

Shute Primary School's participation in Empty Classroom Day saw pupils discover more about trees in their local area.

They went inside Lord Arundel's Oak and trekked to see the 800-year-old King John's Oak at the old Shute Deer Park.

Pete Youngman and Ruth Worsley from Legacy to Landscapes helped the children to think about what historical events the King John's Oak had lived through.

The children also made a food web to show how many creatures and living things rely on these special trees.

Thank you!

SEATON Devon Air Ambulance Supporters Group would like to thank everyone who has contributed towards helping us to put together this wonderful support feature for the town - illustrating the variety of events happening over Seaton Devon Air Ambulance Week. Your commitment to helping make our fundraising efforts a success is sincerely appreciated.

Money raised will help towards the Night Flying Campaign, extending flying hours, requiring additional Pilots, Paramedics, training and equipment which Devon Air Ambulance are working towards being operational by October 2016.

Thanks again for your generous support of our efforts to donate as much as possible to Devon Air Ambulance Trust.

Seaton Devon Air Ambulance Week 2016

ONE of Seaton's most popular summer attractions, Devon Air Ambulance Week, returns from July 23rd-31st. Now in its seventh year, the event is set to raise even more funds for the Devon Air Ambulance Trust.

This year it will cost £5.5 million to keep the air ambulance flying, as from this autumn DAA plan to be flying into the night - right the way up until midnight.

The Air Ambulance Week fun begins on the evening of Saturday, July 23rd with comedy hypnotist Niall Flannery at Seaton Football Club.

Tickets are £5 and the event is for over 18s only.

There will also be a fundraising auction during the interval with special guest Graham Barton from Homes Under The Hammer.

Tickets are available now by calling 07411 325753 or from Seaton Football Club.

The following day (Sunday, July 24th) the Jurassic Coast Bikers are in town, where an array of stunning two-wheeled machines will be parked up on the Esplanade from 10am-4:30pm.

The following weekend boasts two action packed days of attractions, which will be opened by Titan The Robot on Saturday, July 30th at 12noon. Titan will also be making an appearance at 4pm.

Planned events include a dog show on The Esplanade on the Saturday from 1pm (registration from 11:30pm). Entry is £1.50 per class with rosettes for 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and special classes.

11 NEED-TO-KNOWS BEFORE YOU PICK A SAVINGS ACCOUNT

A SAVINGS account is just a place to dunk cash to earn interest and save for the future. But don't just go for the headline screaming the highest rate without first examining how it works and what the alternatives are...

1. Savings interest is now paid tax free:

It used to be that for every £100 interest earned, basic-rate taxpayers lost £20 in tax, higher rate £40. Yet since 6 April 2016, the new personal savings allowance (PSA) has turned it on its head. Now:

- All savings interest will be paid gross, ie, there'll be no tax taken off.
- This works for ALL interest - not just savings accounts, but bank accounts, credit unions & peer-to-peer savings. However share dividends aren't included.
- Basic 20% rate taxpayers can earn £1,000/yr interest tax-free.
- Higher 40% rate taxpayers can earn £500/yr interest tax-free.
- Top 45% rate taxpayers don't get a PSA, so all interest is taxable.
- Cash ISAs, premium bonds and other tax-free savings interest DON'T count towards the £1,000 (or £500) PSA limit so you can get this interest too.
- If you earn interest over the limit, you pay tax at your income tax rate, but only on the amount over the limit.

If you do then owe tax, it'll be taken through your tax code. If you self-assess, you'll declare anything you need to pay there. HMRC estimates the PSA will take 95% of people out of paying savings interest tax altogether.

2. If you've costly debts, pay them off before saving:

If the interest cost of your debt is more than you'd earn on savings you're better off paying down the debt. If you've £1,000 on a credit card at 20% it costs £200 a year, assuming a constant balance. In savings at 2%, you'd earn £20 a year, so you'd be £180 a year better off repaying the card.

3. If you've got a mortgage, check if you should overpay it before saving:

This is the same principle as above: if the mortgage rate is higher than the savings rate, and you can spare the cash, overpaying is a solid financial decision. However, there are possible complications, such as penalties for paying too much...

4. Have you used your 2016/17 ISA allowance? It allows you to save and never pay tax on interest:

A cash ISA is simply a savings account where you never pay tax on the interest. Anyone aged 16 or over can put up to £15,240 into their cash ISA during the current tax year.

Traditionally this was the first place for taxpayers to put a lump sum, yet the new personal savings allowance has made them a less attractive option.

5. Are you willing to switch bank account?

You can boost savings rates:

Surprisingly, some banks' current accounts pay a higher rate of interest than their savings accounts – these are currently the top rates available, other than specialised exceptions. You'll often need to switch bank account to take advantage, and pass a credit check.

6. Can you put money aside each month?

Consider a regular saver:

This is a specific product for putting £10-£500 in every month (maximum deposits vary by account).

If you want to save more, combine a few. The main advantage is they tend to pay much higher rates of interest than standard deals.

7. Can you lock the cash away? Fixed savings give a (slightly) better return:

You may want to consider getting a fixed-rate savings account where the amount you earn is set in stone over a fixed time period. However, you can't usually access the cash during that time, and even if you can, the penalties can be large.

Usually fixed rates are higher than easy access, so they can be good deals. However, if normal savings rates were to increase during that time, you'd be unable to ditch and switch to a better payer.

8. Up to £75,000 in savings per person is safe in UK-regulated accounts:

Ten years ago, we wouldn't have had to stress this so clearly. No bank had collapsed in 100 years, but then the credit crunch and global market turmoil hit. After the calamities that hit Northern Rock, RBS, the Lloyds group, Bradford & Bingley, Icesave and Kaupthing, every sensible saver should ask: "Is my money safe?"

Provided the money is in a UK-regulated bank or building society, it's protected under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) for up to £75,000 per person.

9. Ditch and switch after introductory 'bonus' rates end:

These are temporary interest boosts to attract new customers. They're actually a good thing for many, as they effectively act as a minimum rate guarantee during the introductory period, promising you at least some interest.

But it is vital to diarise the end date and switch as soon as the bonus ends, so you don't languish on a rubbish rate. Always know your account's exact name and the rate it pays as some try to flog you a similarly named deal at bonus-end.

10. In a couple? Put savings in the name of the partner who pays less tax:

If one of you pays a lower rate of tax than the other, it's financially worth considering whose name you save in (but ONLY if you trust them). Put it in the lower rate taxpayer's name and it'll fall under a higher personal savings allowance, so you can save more without paying tax. There's nothing stopping married couples or civil partners moving money between them.

If you're not married, there's no tax on giving your partner a 'gift' – though once the money goes across, be aware it becomes their cash, not yours. The only extra issue here would be inheritance tax. If the person who gave the cash dies within seven years the surviving partner may be charged tax.

11. Got kids? Encourage them to start saving:

If you've got children aged under 18, then you could consider opening a specialist savings account for them. Though they tend to mirror adult accounts (in that you can get easy-access, fixed-rate, ISAs etc), some of the current rates actually beat their grown-up counterparts. Plus, it can be a great way to teach your kids the merits of saving early.

You can gift enough savings per parent tax-free to earn £100 interest each year – though open a Junior ISA and all interest is tax-free regardless, though the cash is locked away. Other children's savings options include Regular Savings, Easy-Access Savings and Fixed Savings.

Ferne Animal Sanctuary

PROVIDING REFUGE FOR UNWANTED ANIMALS

www.ferneanimalsanctuary.org | 01460 65214 | info@ferneanimalsanctuary.org

About Ferne:

Set in a picturesque 51 acres of the Blackdown Hills on the outskirts of Chard, Ferne Animal Sanctuary is a registered charity that has been rescuing and rehoming animals for over 75 years.

The Sanctuary provides a permanent residence to over 300 animals from bovines to budgies. Ferne is open all year round to the general public who are welcome to explore the grounds and see the animals that reside there.

They are always looking for loving new permanent homes for the cats, dogs and horses in their care so please get in touch if you are looking to extend your family! For more information about the fantastic work the sanctuary does, adopting an animal or how you can get involved, visit ferneanimalsanctuary.org or call 01460 65214.

Kitten Kalamity!

Ferne Animal Sanctuary has had an influx of kittens urgently needing new homes.

There are now more than 20 at the Sanctuary, all of which have arrived due to varying circumstances. They are currently caring for a litter of 5, found on a layby near the A303, 3 heavily pregnant cats that gave birth to their kittens just two days after arriving and a number of stray mothers with their litters. With kitten season in full flow, you can be sure that there are many more kittens on the way!

The situation at Ferne Animal Sanctuary has reached a critical point and they are finding it extremely difficult to accommodate the ever increasing numbers of pregnant cats and kittens that are being abandoned by their owners or strays brought in by concerned members of the public. Every year the problem becomes more severe and at present they have more than 40 cats, of which over 20 are kittens. They are quite literally bursting at the seams. Both of their catteries are full and they are having to take extreme measures by also using the Sanctuary's animal surgery area, which is far from ideal.

Tara Nirula, Rehoming Manager is appealing to anyone considering adopting a feline into their family: 'We are urgently looking for loving homes with people who can give these kittens a second chance in life. The owners must have patience and commitment but most of all, lots of love to give.'

Anyone wishing to adopt kittens is asked to call the Sanctuary on 01460 65214 to discuss suitability and to arrange a viewing appointment. A pre-home check will be conducted before any animals are released into the adopter's care.

If you are unable to adopt a kitten from Ferne but you would like to help, you can donate towards their Special Care Cat Unit appeal. Steph Sterndale-Bennett, Fundraising Manager explains more: 'We are currently undertaking a 12 month appeal for funds to help us build a special care unit which will enable us to accommodate more cats and kittens in need of extra TLC in the years to come. This is becoming increasingly important as we are finding ourselves at maximum capacity more and more frequently.'

The Special Care Cat Unit will cost £195,000 to build and will complement the top class care that Ferne Animal Sanctuary provides to the animals 365 days of the year. To donate please visit the 'Donate Now' page of their website ferneanimalsanctuary.org

The Tempest of Lyme

Don't miss the exclusive performances of Shakespeare adaptation

THE Tempest of Lyme approaches Lyme Regis' seafront with 50-strong community cast. This special adaptation of Shakespeare's The Tempest incorporates the local link between the town and Shakespeare's last play.

In July 1609 Lyme Regis-born Admiral George Somers set sail to carry urgent supplies to the fledgling British settlement of Jamestown in Virginia. Three months into the voyage, the fleet hit a hurricane that wrecked Somers' ship on an uninhabited Bermuda. 150 passengers were stranded for ten months on the island before building new ships and sailing on to rescue Jamestown. One of his fellow crewmen was Sylvester Jourdain, also from Lyme Regis, who wrote an account of the storm, the shipwreck and the Isle of Devils, and published it in London. Shakespeare read the account, and was inspired to write his last play... The Tempest.

This July, to celebrate the 20th anniversary of Lyme's twinning with St George's Bermuda, the Marine Theatre stages The Tempest of Lyme, a new adaptation of Shakespeare's epic tale weaving in the story of Sir George Somers and his colonization of Virginia. Directed by Marine Artistic Director Clemmie Reynolds, with music by award-winning composer Andrew Dickson (High Hopes, Vera Drake), this open-air theatre production is to be performed on Theatre Square with sweeping views of the Jurassic Coastline and whatever weather we encounter as the perfect backdrop to the drama.

Performances start TONIGHT (July 19th) until July 24th, onstage nightly at 7pm, except on Thursday, July 21st when the performance will start at 8pm due to the Red Arrows display. Gates open one hour before onstage times (6.45pm on Thursday 21st).

Tickets are £10, under 18s £5, available from the box office at Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre on 01297 442138, or online at www.marinetheatre.com.

Live reggae from The Iscatels

LOWER Bruckland Nature Reserve will welcome host one of the South West's top reggae acts, The Iscatels, on Saturday, July 23rd.

Based in Exeter, The Iscatels play their own original reggae, fusing dub, ska and drum & bass into an eclectic mix of intricate, original, heartfelt songs.

The five-piece have played at festivals including

The Secret Garden Party, and Ottery's Beautiful Days, and have played shows at Bristol O2 Academy and The London Indigo O2.

Tickets for the show are £8, and a bar and home-made pizzas will be available on the night. For more details visit www.natureindevon.co.uk or call 07721 429077.

Spellbinding cinematic acoustic guitar at the Marine Theatre

THERE will be a rare - and possibly last chance - opportunity to see James Blackshaw perform live at the Marine Theatre on Wednesday, July 27th before he hangs up his touring boots for the near future. He plays in Lyme Regis en route to the Port Eliot festival, his last scheduled date.

Expect long instrumental tracks, sounds that transport you somewhere else - hypnotic, layered and cinematic. He also sings on a few tracks, but his music is all about the atmosphere and otherworldly space created by one man and a guitar.

James performs celestial and spirit-lifting guitar-led compositions. Meditative in quality, cinematic in scope, his music spirals gracefully across complex patterns, motifs and harmonics. He made his name as a 12-string acoustic guitarist, and his relationship with the instrument is near perfect. With an extensive back catalogue to his name on labels like Young God, Tompkins Square and Important Records, he has developed a unique playing style that takes Takoma school finger-picking into an entirely new place. Swirling overtones, cascading notes and a thousand points of light cascade from his guitar and create ever-shifting textures that bear the influence of contemporary classical composition, post-rock dynamics and invisible soundtracks as much as the American folk guitar tradition.

Despite his transcendent state music he is a grounded and earthly fellow who has been written about with reverence and has played churches, festivals, folk clubs and large concert halls on his many travels in the US, Europe and Japan.

These have included extensive touring with the reformed Swans, as well as collaborative performances with Hauschka and Nancy Elizabeth. He performs and records as a member of Current 93 and with Jozef Van Wissem as Brethren of The Free Spirit.

James Blackshaw plays at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Wednesday, July 27th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £10, available from www.marinetheatre.com or by calling 01297 442138.

Whistle down the wind

THE United Reformed Church hall in Ottery (where the New Ottregians rehearse) was rocking to the sound of three expert keyboard players, drummer and flautist this past Thursday, as the cast were rehearsing with some of the musicians ready for the exciting production of 'Whistle Down The Wind'.

The show is a musical written by Andrew Lloyd Webber, which is on stage from Tuesday to Saturday, July 26-30th, 7.30pm at Kings School Ottery.

The musical has a cast of 30, some of whom are local children who did the show 'Annie' with us last year - a very talented bunch of enthusiastic girls who give their all playing the parts of youngsters in 50s America. Three of the lead roles are taken by children who sing and act like complete pro's as they all throw themselves into the show with complete gusto. As a family who lost their Mum a year ago, they struggle to survive in a harsh world, relying on their father (a part played by well known local Toni Williams, former owner of 'Bagpuss' in the town), who faces a Christmas unable to provide for his family. Suddenly, this rural backwater is threatened by the hiding out of an escaped murderer, (played sensitively by admired local talent Rick Rugg) - to see how they each cope with this and what the outcome is, you need to come and see what will be a stunning musical.

This is the Ottregians 22nd musical and has been beset by problems from the start of rehearsals! From our first 18 year old lead falling over a wall and breaking his leg in five places, to rehearsal pianists having to leave at a moments notice to fly to South Africa, we have faced one thing after another. We now have problems with ticket sales as both the shop 'Bagpuss' (closing when Toni retired) and now the TIC, which has closed without warning, have meant we are finding it hard to get tickets to anyone!

Tickets are available at the Hospiscare Shop in Ottery - as all proceeds go to the charity - and also from Phyllis of the TIC via her phone, or cast members. As the hall is so large at King's we always have tickets available on the night, at the door, so do please come along and enjoy the great story and fabulous music. It has everything from pathos to delight, rock numbers (Tyre Tracks and Broken Hearts) to lilting, haunting ballads (No Matter What - a former famous number one hit for Boyzone), and the cast enjoy the show, throwing themselves into it wholeheartedly, and I'm sure you will too.

Tickets are a steal at only £8. There's plenty of free parking, flat easy access, and it's a 'cafe style' production with a bar run by Hospiscare, so you can enjoy a wine, beer or fruit juice whilst enjoying the performance, and on the Saturday evening there is a pre show two course supper for only £4, so you can make a night of it.

Trevor Bolshaw entertains on the Beer Wurlitzer

TREVOR BOLSHAW, popular President of the Friends of the Beer Wurlitzer, commenced his programme on the Beer Wurlitzer on Saturday, July 9th with 'Journey into Melody' by Robert Farnon. This music set the scene for his thoughtful and extensive programme of light music by a variety of composers which demonstrated the full range of the organ which has been fully restored over the last four years thanks to generous donations and support at all the shows.

The audience enjoyed hearing Trevor play the music of Haydn Wood, Scott Joplin, Franz Schubert, Felton Rappley, Frederic Churzon and others and also his interesting commentary about the composers and their music. Trevor is an internationally acclaimed concert and broadcasting musician at the age of nine with the well-known Midlands broadcasting organist Leslie Taff. His concert career has taken him to the USA on many occasions and he has broadcast on the well-known BBC Radio 2 programme 'The Organist Entertains' as well as on Radio Devon and Radio Bristol. As always, his expertise on the Wurlitzer and also the excellent refreshments provided by his wife Mary were much appreciated.

The next show will be on Saturday, 13 August, when Richard Monks, National Concert and Dance Organist, will be playing music for all. The shows are held at the Congregational Church, Fore Street, Beer, EX12 3JQ, starting at 2.00pm ending approx. 4.30pm. Admission is £7.00 on the door, children free, and includes interval refreshments. For further information phone 01297 24892 or visit www.beerwurlitzer.org.uk.

In and around East Devon, West Dorset and South Somerset

World of Country Life

Make it a Memorable Day Out at World of Country Life, Exmouth

EVERY DAY is different at World of Country Life in Exmouth - park mascot 'Appy Angus' has invited some of his friends to pop in over the six weeks of summer so visitors can expect some amusing antics going on!

Every Monday is Minion Monday - those cheeky Minions are out and about on the park causing mischief and mayhem! Every Wednesday is Wild West Wednesday - expect some rootin' tootin' Wild West fun and games with Sheriff Angus on hand to run that naughty Tennessee Tim out of town! And every Friday is Pirate Friday - shiver me timbers, Captain 'Appy Angus' is back creating mayhem on the Pirate Ship - walk the plank!

Other regular events throughout the summer include Nick Nature in Bugland, pony grooming, arts & crafts, circus skills and loads more!

PLUS! All the usual daily activities to enjoy - Hawkridge Birds of Prey flying Display, ferret & duck racing, goat walking, bottle feeding and the day would not be complete without a ride on the famous Deer Train Safari - hand feed the red deer and llama!

The stars of the park are the animals. Waiting to meet you are the deer, llama, goats, sheep, ponies, donkeys, ducks, chickens, ferrets, pigs, wallabies, rheas, rabbits, guinea pigs, gerbils and our newest addition to the family, Sven & Olaf - two adorable Alpacas born this spring!

You can take a stroll back in time through the farming museum and the Victorian Street, marvel at the many vehicles in the Hall of Transport and the collection of motor cycles lovingly collected over the years by our local 94 year old enthusiast Reg Inray.

With three age specific, indoor soft play areas, full size pirate ship play area, trampolines, big slide and the play park to run around too it's a challenge to do everything in one day.

A hearty breakfast would set you up for the day or you can enjoy a relaxing afternoon cream tea on the decking both available at Farmer Lee's Food Barn along with a great lunch menu but if you don't have time to stop there's the Tractor Takeaway or the Pasty Shack Takeaway and if the weather is fine you could head for the BBQ!

You can check out the full itinerary on www.worldofcountrylife.co.uk or follow us on Facebook so you don't miss a thing but don't forget your camera to make sure you go home with some great memories of summer 2016!

Pecorama

PECORAMA is located high on the hillside above the picturesque fishing village of Beer. The site is open daily from Easter to the end of October and is home to the award-winning Beer Heights Light Railway, Peco Model Railway Exhibition and Millennium Celebration Garden.

On the 7 1/4 inch gauge Railway, a fleet of coal fired miniature steam locomotives pull passenger carrying trains through the gardens, steep sided cuttings and a long dark tunnel. The mile-long journey reveals magnificent sea-views out over the village to Lyme Bay and distant Portland Bill.

The famous PECO Model Railway Exhibition is open all year round and features superbly detailed layouts in every major gauge of track. The Exhibition is complemented by the Model Shop which houses a vast stock of model railway goods.

The Millennium Celebration Garden was completed in the year 2000 and consists of five stunning Garden "rooms". The individual garden names of Sun, Moon, Rainbow, Roof and Moat Garden reflect the nature of the flowers, shrubs and trees to be found in each. A purpose-built meeting room, the Station Gallery, sits beneath the Roof Garden and is the perfect venue for art exhibitions, conferences and work-shops.

Activity areas feature the Peco Play Station, a multi-tiered indoor play arena for children up to 12 years of age and outdoors, safety surfaced play areas packed with equipment ranging from toddler's swings to pirate ship and cable slide. Hard-rocking tribute to legendary Motörhead MOTORKILL – the UK's top Motörhead tribute – bring their awesome headbanging live show to Winstons in Seaton on Saturday, July 23rd for one night only.

Having plied their trade for several years, playing all the big festivals in the UK and Europe, they come to the South West paying homage to the late, great Lemmy.

As the band themselves say: "With the sad loss of Lemmy earlier this year, we aim to remind people just what a giant of a man he was by playing a greatest hits set with a smattering of lesser played tracks." Ilminster Annual Open Invitation

THE Ilminster Annual Open is one of the highlights of Ilminster Arts Centre's calendar. This popular art competition is open to professional and amateur artists, who submit their work to be appraised by a judging panel. Selected works are displayed in a month-long exhibition at the Arts Centre, offering a unique opportunity to see a wonderfully eclectic range of art works by well-known names as well as by up-and-coming artists.

The exhibition is greatly enjoyed by local visitors, as well as those travelling to and from holiday destinations. Indeed many tourists make a point of stopping off at the Arts Centre specifically to see the exhibition, as well as, of course, enjoy the delicious homemade food served in the café!

The event, which is sponsored by Branstons of Seavington, has become a byword for quality and creativity. "The standard of entries gets higher each year", comments exhibition organizer Ann Palmer, "and it is a real feather in an artist's cap to be selected; for those lucky enough to win a prize, a significant boost to their career."

Artists taking part are competing for £850 in prize money and the chance to take part in a prizewinners' exhibition at the Arts Centre in 2017 so the pressure is on for them to have submitted their best works. There is also a 'people's prize' in which visitors to the exhibition can vote to award the artist they think should win.

The opening event takes place on Mon 1 August, 5 - 6.30pm, when the winners will be announced. Free admission. All welcome.

Thorncombe Battle of Bands

Winners take the double!

THE STAGE was set, the lighting rig fired up and in the quiet little Dorset village of Thorncombe, something magical was about to happen! One by one, ten local bands from three counties (Somerset, Devon and Dorset) took to the stage to entertain the crowds at the annual beer and cider festival at the Sports & Social Club. After a highly charged night of amazingly good music, the judges deliberated before choosing four to go to Saturday's final showdown. There was a lot at stake as not only would the winners get a full day in the recording studio with professional record producer Phil Nicholas (who has worked with such legends as Def Leppard, Billy Ocean and Brian Adams) but there were also awards for Best cover, best original song and best under 21's band.

Senior judge musician and record producer Phil Nicholas commented "If I'm being honest, I came here expecting good but average local talent. To say I was surprised is an understatement! The whole judging team and I have been simply blown away by the depth and strength of local musicianship. There was not a single band that did not deserve to go to the final which made our choice really tough!" All the bands older and younger were playing their hearts out for a place in the first ever three county, TBOB final in Thorncombe but in the end, the judges selected Slinky Machine from Lyme Regis, Cloutsham from Wellington The Stylers from Dorchester and Recovering Satellites from Bridgewater.

Then it was the public's chance to get in on the judging action and vote to save their favourite band and take them through to the final. Votes counted, it was Banana High from Yeovil that made it through as a very worthy fifth place to play again.

Saturday night TBOB final

The day started with a strange twist of fate as Slinky Machine one of the judges' picks declared themselves withdrawing from the competition. This sounded bad but actually band spokesman John Robertson told the organiser "We were so impressed by the brilliant atmosphere and friendship between the bands that we decided as more seasoned musicians that we wanted to give our place to one of the younger bands who perhaps would benefit more from the prize." But Slinky Machine had so much fun, they offered to come back and play a 30 minute set on Saturday night anyway - For the crack!. Organiser Phil Gordon added "This was brilliant, so kind and really what I had hoped this event was all about - The music, the love of playing live and the chance to showcase the best up and coming bands of the area!"

The fifth band was Mandy for Girls who were really excited to get a reprieve so all was set for another titan struggle in the evening on Saturday. Rather frustratingly one of the band members pulled out at the last minute leaving the rest of the band unable to continue so the final missed having a fifth band competing. Each of the four finalists played an epic thirty minute set for the judges and the bar was raised higher still! The judges were given more thinking time with Slinky Machine's bonus set which went down very well with the crowd. Brad Baptist local musician from Lyme and member of the TBOB judging panel remarked "So hard to judge, because the quality was that good. Brilliantly organised competition"

TBOB Winners

Recovering Satellites won the 'Best Cover' TBOB with an outstanding and refreshingly different version of Joni Mitchell's 'Big Yellow Taxi'. Cloutsham won 'Best Original Song' with a track called 'Front door' and the overall winners were the youngest band in the competition 'The Stylers' who will be heading to a recording studio at the end of August were presented their award by Mark Ollier of Bevis & Beckingsale key event partners. Mark commented "We are delighted to be supporting TBOB this year- Its been a great night and we've all been really impressed with the depth of musical talent in the area - This is a great way to showcase the bands."

The stylers who come from Dorchester also won the best U21 band TBOB trophy too! Alfie Neale, lead singer and spokesman for the group said "We are totally delighted to win, especially with such a strong field of competition. I would like to give a special thanks you to the Stephen the singer/guitarist of Cloutsham who when my guitar string broke mid song rushed to my rescue and lent me his pride and joy guitar, such a nice thing to do!"

SHOWER WITH LOVE

STEPPING under a cascading shower can

By Sam Wylie-Harris, Press Association

be one of the most luxurious feelings in the world. But turning the shower on to be greeted with a pathetic little trickle can be one of the most frustrating and disappointing experiences!

Indeed, the power of a good shower should not be underestimated. So much more than a means of getting clean, the right one can encourage us to break into a chorus of Singin' In The Rain, awaken the senses and leave us invigorated and ready to take the demands of the day.

Nearly 90% of UK households, according to AMA Research (www.amaresearch.co.uk), have at least one shower in their home, and with demand for super-stylish systems continuing to grow, leading bathroom specialists now offer an array of solutions for both traditional and contemporary interiors.

▼ The Concept Freedom dual shower

"The bathroom continues to be a key element of our homes, playing a much greater role beyond that of its traditional function as just another part of the daily routine," says Robin Leven, international designer at Ideal Standard.

"It has become both multi-purpose and multi-functional, an oasis of escapism and relaxation. A place for reinvigoration, transformation and even somewhere to pose, ponder and play."

Dreaming of a shower upgrade? The first stage in the planning process is to address a number of key issues, such as water pressure, the fabric of the building and ceiling height.

"The most important thing is to ensure you choose a shower system that's compatible with your water supply, to make sure you have sufficient water pressure to give optimal showering experience," notes Joe Stephens, product designer at Roper Rhodes.

Once the practical points have been addressed, you can drench yourself in the fun bits...

DARK DEPTHS

Style and ambience can make a big difference in a bathroom; an uncluttered spa style, and chic, minimalist designs are ever-popular.

And while lighter colour schemes may be most traditionally associated with this part of the home, don't rule out moody hues, which can work especially well.

"There is a trend for using dark colours on the walls and floor, which with good lighting, can actually make a small space seem bigger, as well as delivering a boutique hotel feel," says Leven.

Think different shades of greys, particularly darker tones, which are very on trend and great for creating a tranquil feel of luxury and relaxation.

Bristan's latest electric shower range has been designed to complement any decor scheme, and their Bliss model comes in a cool black gloss, to combine uber contemporary design with the usual functional benefits. Clever new detailing includes an anti-limescale feature and warm-up mode.

WET & WILD

Oversized shower heads can - literally - wash our woes away and make us feel like we're in Club Tropicana.

"Drench shower heads are a fantastic choice for those looking to create a spa-like showering experience," says Helen Shaw, marketing manager at Laura Ashley Bathroom Collection.

"Large, 300mm shower heads, which can be ceiling-mounted for a dramatic effect, are perfect for this as they create a cascading rain shower effect. Diverter valves are very popular, as they give the ability to switch the flow of water between two or even three different outlets, such as the main overhead shower, a handset and a bath filler. Thermostatic shower valves are another popular choice, particularly for families, as they are safe and easy to use."

Lisa Ward, shower design expert at Bristan, agrees: "Right now, bigger is better. Show-stopping ceiling-fed shower heads are a huge trend, because they look great, and they provide a really luxurious showering experience."

"This year we're seeing the emergence of 'wow' shower head features, such as waterfall settings and LED mood lighting, which create a sense of total relaxation," she adds.

"There's a perception that ceiling-fed shower heads are inflexible, but increasingly, homeowners are investing in a diverter to a second shower head, which can be adjusted to suit the needs of each user, meaning they get the best of both worlds."

:: Bristan Glorious Showerpack, currently £305.40 from £509, including Thermostatic Valve, 200mm Fixed Head Shower Rose with Wall Arm and Adjustable Shower Kit (www.tapstore.com)

THE WOW FACTOR

When space is at a minimum, often it's all about finding inventive and user-friendly ways of fitting in the essentials - but those lucky enough to have lots of bathroom space to play with can tap into trends on a larger scale.

"Bathrooms are moving from the functional into the decadent," says Edel Nicholson, marketing manager at Merlyn Showering.

"There are no longer any taboos and the filter has been lifted! Colour, texture, shape and size have moved from being 'safe' to almost stretching the boundaries of good taste. There has never been so much choice and product variation, and trends are very fast moving."

To create a beautiful bathroom, the pros at Merlyn suggest picking a statement piece that you really can't live without - make that the focus of the room - and design your bathroom around it.

Talk to your local bathroom retailer, as they can give you professional advice and use a suite of design tools, so you can be confident you've made the right choices for your space and needs, before any costly tiling or plumbing work begins.

"We love giving a traditional bathroom an up-to-date facelift by removing the bath and replacing it with a large format slim tray and wet room," says Nicholson. "This totally transforms both the look, life and function of the bathroom."

"Again, there is huge choice out there, and if you are concerned about plumbing and drainage, opt for a low level tray for a true wet room look."

"Think about coloured glass, as this can offer a 'wow' factor and also delivers some privacy, if the bathroom is used by more than one person at a time."

:: Synergy Corner Wet Room Panel with straight bracing bracket, end panel and angle bracing bracket, Moments Shower Column, from £350 (for stockists, visit www.ideal-standard.co.uk)

:: 8 Series Colour Sliding Door in Gold, from £1,495.20, with 8mm toughened safety glass, concealed fittings, translucent seals and frame colour options (for stockists, visit www.merlynshowering.com)

:: Aquaglass + Sphere Tinted Slider, from £890, featuring concealed fittings, 8mm-toughened glass, and a sleek black handle (for stockists, visit www.frontlinebathrooms.co.uk)

The new FIAT Qubo MPV is now available to order in the UK

▲ The new FIAT Qubo MPV

THE new FIAT Qubo MPV is now available to order in the UK, demonstrating once again the expertise and experience that FIAT has in designing and building cars that are compact on the outside but larger-than-life in terms of both personality and interior space.

Part of the functional family, alongside the popular Panda, versatile Doblo and all-new Tipo hatchback and station wagon, the new FIAT Qubo retains its 3.96m long and 1.7m wide dimensions meaning it continues to mate the footprint of a supermini with the interior more like that of an MPV with ample room for five adults and a capacious 250-litre boot – which grows to 650 litres when the parcel shelf is removed or an astonishing 2,500 litres with the rear seats removed. Equipped with the optional folding of the front passenger seat, the FIAT Qubo is even able to accommodate long objects of up to 2.5m in length.

A large hatchback tailgate not only allows easy access to the boot from every angle for loads of all shapes and sizes, it also provides useful shelter in inclement weather making it ideal for shopping trips on rainy days. In total, there are 16 different seating configurations with the rear seats accessed by practical sliding doors – perfect for tight parking spaces!

For 2016, the FIAT Qubo gets a new exterior look which, in keeping with the character of the car, combines Italian style with everyday practicality. The large, high-mounted headlamps, for example, help define the Qubo's friendly face – now augmented by a new "smiling" front grille and chunky new front bumper – also offering improved night-time visibility and limiting the likelihood of damage in the event of a minor accident. Trekking versions also get new skid plates panels in the front and rear bumpers, as well as special side mouldings, both with silver inserts, and special Trekking alloy wheels with mud-and-snow tyres.

The tailgate is also revised, with the large circular recess giving way to a straight, flat panel with a more elegant location for the FIAT badge, while the gloss black trim is redesigned to accommodate tailgate release, illumination for the relocated number plate and bolder Qubo badge. The choice of exterior colours is enriched with two new hues, Magnetic Bronze and Azure Blue, while new wheel cover and alloy wheel designs complete the exterior revisions.

Inside, the new FIAT Qubo, the stylish and functional cabin benefits from a new steering wheel design; black mirror-finish detailing on the steering wheel spokes and centre console surround; new instruments; new seat upholstery and new infotainment options; including a new Uconnect system with a five-inch colour touchscreen and Bluetooth connectivity, USB and aux-in ports as well as the option of satellite navigation.

The new FIAT Qubo is available in three trim levels: Pop, Lounge and Trekking. Standard equipment on the entry level Pop model includes remote central locking, electric front windows with one-touch lowering, electrically adjusted and adjustable door mirrors, body coloured bumpers and mirror covers, height-adjustable driver's seat with lumbar support and an arm rest and opening rear quarter-light windows. Safety equipment includes ABS with EBD, ESC with ASR, HBA, Hill Holder system and front and side airbags. The Pop version is powered exclusively by FIAT's reliable and robust 77hp 1.4-litre petrol engine and is priced from £11,695 OTR.

The Lounge version adds air conditioning, front fog lights, the colour five-inch Uconnect touchscreen infotainment system with Bluetooth, steering wheel remote controls, steering wheel and gear shifter trimmed in leather and 16-inch alloy wheels, all for a premium of just £1,000. It is available with the 77hp 1.4-litre petrol engine, priced at £12,695 OTR, and the 80hp 1.3-litre MultiJet II turbo diesel, priced from £14,695 OTR.

FIAT's Dualogic automatic transmission is available on the diesel version.

The new FIAT Qubo Trekking, with its raised suspension and Traction+ electronic front differential, builds on the impressive Lounge specification by adding special bumpers, side mouldings and alloy wheels (as mentioned previously) as well as dark tinted windows, roof bars, rear parking sensors, cruise control and the 95hp 1.3-litre MultiJet II turbo diesel as standard. Pricing for the FIAT Qubo Trekking starts at £15,695 OTR.

The new FIAT Qubo is available in the UK now and customers can visit www.FIAT.co.uk for more information on the FIAT UK range, while images and additional information is available to the media on www.FIATpress.co.uk.

The not so new generation – 17-24 year olds open to buying a new or used car

▲ 17-24 year olds open to buying a new or used car

NEARLY 50% of 17-24 year olds are open to buying a new or used car, which is significantly more than any other age group. The next closest age group open to considering new or used are 25-35 year olds with 38% claiming they're undecided.

48% of all younger consumers aged 17-24 intend to buy a car on their first visit to a dealership, the second highest percentage (38%) are those aged 25-34 years, according to Auto Trader's Annual Buying Report.

The UK's largest automotive marketplace surveyed over 2,000 consumers for its Annual Buying Report and found that spending time online is key for Millennials when researching which car to buy, as only 9% of them claim to visit a retailer to browse models. What's more, over a third of all car buyers discount visiting a dealership as part of their research to choose which car to buy next.

While the majority of Millennials have a clear idea of the car they are interested in buying when they walk into a dealership, nearly half of them are open to whether it will be a new or pre-owned version, and this provides an opportunity for manufacturers and retailers to influence their buying decision.

Nick King, Auto Trader Insight Director, said: "We know there is now no real difference between a new and a used car buyer anymore – there are just car buyers. This is particularly true of the 17-24 year olds, the biggest demographic of car buyers to consider new or used with 42% of them open to either. This is your future audience and not one to be ignored as this generation is used to next-day delivery, and getting everything they want immediately, and it's why 48% of millennials expect to walk in to a dealership and buy there and then."

The research also revealed that for nearly half of all car buyers their first contact with a dealer is when they walk in, with the primary reason for visiting a showroom being to buy a car retailers need to ensure there is a smooth process in place to achieve this.

The good news is the vast majority of consumers surveyed are able to do just that with 81% revealing they were able to buy their car on the same day. That does, however, leave nearly one in five car buyers unable to complete their deal, with the biggest reason cited that the car wasn't ready to drive away.

Retailers need to ensure customers can complete their car purchasing process when they walk in, or risk losing a sale, and also provide a seamless and enjoyable purchase experience which starts online. The research discovered the third most important reason given as to why a consumer bought from a given retailer is friendly and courteous staff.

Nick King continues: "Of all the age groups, Millennials are more likely to say they find the car buying process boring, confusing and complicated, and least likely to say they find it exciting, fun and interesting. So there are opportunities for retailers to win here by blending the on and offline retail experience into one seamless process that is enjoyable, quick and easy. Millennials are the most impatient for this to happen as they are the most tech savvy, so there is a huge opportunity for the industry to grab."

Mazda adds some autumn colour with the Mazda2 Red Edition on sale from September 1st

IT'S time to see red this September, as Mazda's stylish and sophisticated supermini range is enhanced with the launch of the Mazda2 Red Edition. With high levels of standard specification, eye-catching styling enhancements and a striking cabin, the Red Edition's stand-out appearance complements the Mazda2's KODO: Soul of Motion design and sporty proportions.

Offered with a choice of free-of-charge Snowflake White Pearllescent or Black Mica paint, the Red Edition's youthful design cues include Soul Red accents on the wing mirror covers, rear spoiler and rear underskirt, while the bespoke look can be further heightened with optional £300 Dark Gunmetal 15" alloy wheels.

Inside, the reddean theme continues with red cloth seat trim, red knee pad inserts and red door trim inserts, while a red and white décor panel on the dash adds a large sweep of colour across the dash. In dealerships from the 1st September and limited to just 400 cars, the Red Edition's small volumes make it an exclusive supermini choice that stands out from the crowd.

However, based on the 90ps SE-L Nav, the Red Edition shares the same core values of driving fun, sharp looks, quality, safety and affordability found across the entire Mazda2 range. Featuring the signature wing front grille and predatory headlamp styling which instantly identify it as a Mazda, the Mazda2 supermini features advanced chassis architecture, while its dynamic, muscular, cab-rearward proportions incorporate a long wheelbase with small overhangs to maximise interior space.

On-board, front shoulder and rear knee room is complemented by excellent seat comfort, while coherent instrumentation and switchgear is matched to class-leading ergonomics. The 7-inch touchscreen display combines with Mazda's rotary Multimedia Commander to create an enhanced human-machine interface (HMI) offering extremely safe, intuitive interactivity and infotainment control.

Powered by the efficient 90ps SKYACTIV-G petrol engine, the Red Edition offers customers the ideal balance of lively, agile performance and highly-competitive fuel economy, plus with CO2 emissions of just 105g/km low-running costs are a given.

"Thanks to its combination of fun-to-drive handling, stylish looks and generous equipment, the Mazda2 is already winning over UK supermini buyers and our latest special edition model offers stand-out looks and a bold cabin for those customers who want to make a statement with their car. With free-of-charge metallic paint and its striking styling enhancements, the Mazda2 Red Edition is a colourful addition to the Mazda2 range, that I'm sure will be popular with younger buyers," comments Peter Allibon, Sales Director of Mazda Motors UK.

HONITON RC with Judy Davey
ON Sunday, Honiton athletes James Denne and Gemma Collier made the long trip up to the Olympic Park in London to take part in the GREAT NEWHAM 10K LONDON Run.

More than 11,000 people took part with the race which looped around Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park before giving runners the opportunity to run into the Stadium and cross the finish line where Mo Farah and Jess Ennis-Hill won gold in 2012.

On arrival, athletes were met with humid conditions with the thermometer hitting 26 degrees celsius for the start of the race.

James was the first athlete overall in a time of 32:44, with a clear advantage of 40 seconds over his nearest rival, James Bellward of Bedford and County Harriers, who beat him at the first ever Honiton Hippo back in 2009. Gemma finished 5th lady in 41:48.

James said: "The atmosphere was incredible. I was in the stadium to see David Rudisha win gold at the Olympics and to think that I have followed him onto this track is amazing. I was going to sprint the last 300 metres but decided to slow down and enjoy the moment. It's been a phenomenal day."

On Saturday July 9th, five Honiton Runners took part in the second annual running of the HAM TO LYME ULTRA MARATHON.

This is a mixed terrain race organised by Albion Running with two distances on offer, 50k or the out and back 100k.

The course followed the Liberty Trail from Ham Hill through West Chinnok, Crewkerne, Misterton, Ford Abbey, Wotton Fitzpaine, Lamberts Castle and finally Lyme Regis.

First home for Honiton was Suzanne Spiller and Daniel Strawbridge (33rd-34th) in a time of 5:56:35 - Suzanne finished 4th lady.

Next home were Tim Wigram and Simon Spiller (43rd/44th) in 6:05:33 and then Sharon Wells in 58th in 6:24:59. There were 125 runners and the race was won by Iain Trickett in 4:26:34.

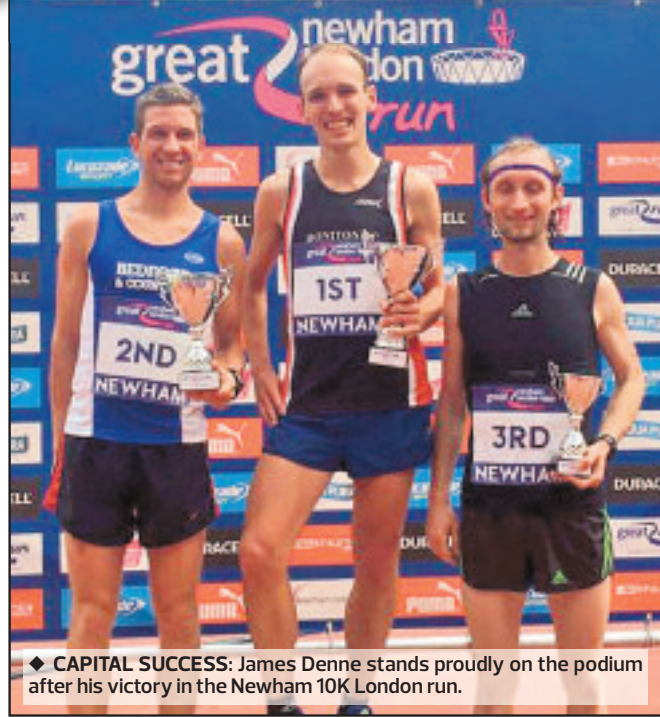

Last Sunday, Honiton had a great turn out for 'MRS E'S BIG WHEEZE' based at Mrs Ethelston's Primary School in Uplyme. This hilly multi-terrain 10k was completed in conditions that were too warm for most of the runners.

First home for Honiton was David Hawker who had had a battle with Rod Inglis throughout the race. David came 15th in 46:26 with Rod coming 16th in 47:11.

Four HRC runners followed in quick succession beginning with Steve Davey who came 18th in 47:55 followed by 3rd lady Ceri Oak in 48:24. Then came Mark Dallyn in 48:59 and Howard Bidmead in 50:06. Judy Davey was only four places later finishing in 53:05 and winning her age category. Lynn Pike came 35th in 57:26 with Katherine Tomkins finishing 19 seconds later.

Tony Peek came 45th in 1:02:56, Kathy Layzell 48th in 1:04:12.

The race was won by Jake Smith in a course record of 36:04 and there were 63 finishers.

Honiton golfers in a hurry as new record is set

HONITON with John Pawley
OVER 90 members took part in the Club CAPTAIN'S DAY. Julian Phillips hosted and was keen to involve all sections of the club so the men were divided into three divisions and there was a Ladies prize.

The format was an individual Stableford and some good scores were anticipated. Division One was won by Roy Bumpstead (35) followed by Mark Tierney (35) and Paul Coates (34).

Division Two was won by Graham Charleton with a brilliant score of 42 pts - winning the Calabar Mug for the top overall score of the day. Next were Darren Morgan (41) and Ross Latchem (39).

Division Three was won by Fred Thomas with 32 pts with Peter Eyles, Trevor Davis and Michael Lee next - all on 31.

The Ladies division was won by Janet Hughes (37) with Catherine Doherty (34) next followed by Jane Watts with 34. The Jim Loosmore Tankard, for the longest drive was won by Ben Phillips.

A total of 16 players competed in teams of 4 to see who could play the Par 5 9th hole in the quickest time, with a single ball.

Selecting which player to play which shot was key, and one team absolutely nailed it. Julian Phillips hit one of his best drives to land his ball within feet of Club Pro James Pickard in the fairway to hit the second shot.

With the green in range, despite a great strike, the ball came down just short of the green. Stewart Slater then chipped to within six feet, and, waiting on the green was Julian Netherway who took his time to sink the putt for a birdie 4.

So another record has been set with a fantastic time of 1 minute and 3.9 seconds - there are sure to be plenty of members keen to have a go at beating this.

Tuesday's competition format for the mixed was a RYE FOURSOMES - played like a greensomes, but the players nominate in advance which of them will play the second shot on the odd or the even holes.

The unusual format was no hindrance to Cherry Liell & Bob Barnes who had an impressive 43 points. Janet & David Hughes were second with 39 and Vicki and Barry Rogers third with 36.

With a damp start, the LADIES CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP, a 36 hole scratch competition, was a challenge only seven felt they had a chance.

The alternative was the 18 hole HANDICAP CUP where the maximum handicap was 30.

The Club Champion was Anusara Trayling with rounds of 87 & 91, a total of 178. Runner up was Elizabeth Ward with rounds of 90 & 96 - a total of 186.

Winner of the Handicap Cup was Linda

Blundell with a 74 on count-back from Elizabeth Ward. This was also a Medal Competition so there were prizes in all divisions: Silver - Elizabeth Ward 74, Janet Hughes 76, Anusara Trayling 78. Bronze 1 - Linda Blundell 74, Sharon Rouse 75, Liz Wood 77. Bronze 2 - Sheila Palmer 80, Susan Hyde 86.

The nine-hole Stableford was won by Catherine Hunt with 12 points.

There was a good turnout of over 60 players for the SENIORS' MONTHLY MEDAL competition which was brought forward from next week, for the Veterans Cup.

The medal format did catch some out with some high scores recorded on individual holes but equally low scores were to be found, particularly in Division One.

Two players came in with a score of 66, both earning themselves a handicap adjustment, and it was Pat Purtell who lost on count-back to Captain Alan Pollock. Third and fourth were Stan Squire and Roger Matthews with 68, again separated on count-back with John Fleetwood next on 69.

Division Two was won by Kit Barker with a 71 followed by Bob Cockett on 72. The next three places, all with 73, separated by count-back were, in order, Fred Thomas, Brian Morrison and Dave Morgan.

Five twos recorded - Alan, Pollock, Dave Lavender and George Smith at the 2nd, Mike

CRICKET St THOMAS with Bert Robinson
FIFTY six members of the Senior section participated in the July stableford qualifier on Monday.

The early rain hampered the early starters, but cleared up later on to witness some reasonable scoring with many players returning scores in the 30s.

In Division One, a round of level par by John Wandless took the honours, closely followed by John Pearce and Barrie Heath.

A tight finish in Division Two was witnessed with Bert Robinson fighting off the competition and returning a round of one under par, which was the best score of the day.

Results: Division One - 1st John Wandless (36), 2nd John Pearce (35), 3rd Barrie Heath (34).

Division Two; 1st Bert Robinson (37), 2nd George Wallace (36), 3rd Andy Beale (35).

Meanwhile, nine teams of three entered the three-man discard event on Wednesday, whereby three scores on the card are discarded. In this format, not necessarily the best card wins, and in the event Roger Stone's trio won by a margin of four points over Mike Mosser's team, four points behind.

Result: 1st Roger Stone, Dick Hall & Barrie Singleton 75 points, 2nd Mike Mosser, Sid Crisp & George Wallace 71, 3rd John Bloys, Des Denning & John Livens 68.

The Seniors completed their week on Friday with 36 members entering a three-man Bowmaker tournament.

Result: 1st George Wallace, Sid Crisp & Clive Fisk 76 points, 2nd Roger Stone, Malcolm Roy & Tony Stenhouse 73, 3rd Barrie Singleton, Nobby Hodder & John Twose 72 points."

AXE CLIFF with Peter Motson
THE MIXED INVITATION match at Axe Cliff attracted golfers from all over the south-west.

The American Greensomes competition seemed to favour the pairings which contained a low handicap male golfer, as the top three placings all contained a single figure participant.

In 3rd place were Marie Timms (Sidmouth) & Alan Kenworthy (ACGC) who scored 42 points, 2nd place went to Helen Gaudie (ACGC) & Danny Dowell (Cricket St Thomas) with 47.

However, with an incredible 52 points, the worthy winners were Caroline Bond (ACGC) & Graham Ruth (Tavistock).

The Front Nine competition was won by Tania Wickham (RND) & Rob Grove (ACGC).

The Back Nine was won by Jackie Seagar (Honiton) & Doug Board (ACGC).

The winner of the Seniors' section Medal competition was Gilbert Cox (HC 20) with a net score of 72.

In 2nd place, on countback, was Tony Strong (HC6) with a net 73 and in 3rd place was G Filtness (HC22) also with 73.

Rob Grove, Tony Strong and Dave Bruce all recorded 2s.
